German Fleet Comes Out of Kiel Canal and Partly Destroys English Cities

DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY IN THREE OF BRITAIN'S SEAPORTS

LONDON, Dec. 16.—German warships shelled Hartlepool and Scarborough, English ports on the North Sea, this morning. Later British warships were sent out to repel the invaders and a naval engagement is now on.

The admiralty says officially that German movements of some importance are taking place in the North Sea this morning, that Scarborough and Hartlepool have been shelled, and that our flotillas are engaged with the enemy at various points. The situation is rapidly developing. The scene of the battle is 400 miles from the Kiel canal, where the German fleet had been concentrated since the beginning of the war.

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED AND WOMEN VIOLATED.

ATHENS, Dec. 16.—Greek Christians are being massacred by Turks at Avai, Asia Minor, and many houses pillaged and shops fired. Numerous women and girls have been violated by Turks.

The northern Albanian tribes have declared war against Servia.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN FROM SERVIA.

NISH, Dec. 16.—An official statement says that all Austrian soldiers have been driven from Servia. King Peter and the crown prince led the army into Belgrade amid vociferous acclaim by the citizens.

NISH, Dec. 16.—The Servian army captured 60,000 Austrian soldiers when it retook Belgrade.

NO FOUNDATION TO REPORT, SAYS SHOLTZ

Editor Daily News.—The report seems to come from some source that I objected to the telephone system being placed underground north of Bay street. I want to deny most emphatically that I ever made any objection to such a move, but on the contrary I think it would be to the best interests of the city to have the cable underground wherever possible and will gladly tear up the street railway tracks, if necessary, in order that the telephone system be placed underground along the entire length of Beach street. MICHAEL SHOLTZ.

SILVER SHOWER FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

MOTHERS' AND TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION APPEALS TO PUBLIC TO LEND AID AT CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.

The Mothers' and Teachers' association of the Daytona schools was organized some years ago, for the purpose of bringing the mothers and teachers into closer relation and to promote the welfare of the schools.

The mothers and teachers probably realize more the advantage of a good education than others do, hence their united efforts. Riches may take wings over night, but a good education remains with the recipients, and makes them better citizens, and more useful members of society, and also insures them a more comfortable existence while in this world. The mothers and teachers have done good work together, and the schools have been benefited in various ways.

The attendance at the schools has increased, however, entirely out of proportion to the means at the command of the board of education to furnish proper buildings and facilities for the accommodation of the scholars and to advance the standing of our schools. In spite of this handicap, however, the board has striven heroically, and has given us a school building as fine as any in the state; we have an efficient corps of teachers and we are on the accredited list now, so that the graduates of our high school are admitted to all colleges without an examination, which admit the graduates of other accredited high schools.

We are justly proud of all this and give the credit to our school board and to our efficient teachers. However, many things are still needed to make the schools more efficient which the board is totally unable to provide, for want of means. The scholars themselves have worked nobly to provide some of these things. A year ago they purchased a mimeograph at an expense of $50, the use of which would be materially increased if they had a typewriter, which they are unable to buy. (A present of a good second-hand one would be greatly appreciated.)

This year they bought a Victrola, and paid two-thirds of the cost, and they are still trying to raise the necessary amount to pay the balance. They also need more records. A stereopticon lantern with the necessary slides to be used in teaching geography, history and the sciences, which could also be used in entertainments for the amusement of the children, as well as for their instruction, would be a very useful adjunct in the teaching of those studies. Its cost would be about $100.

We would also mention the proper equipment for the playground for the children of the lower grades. This is important, as the children's physical development must go hand in hand with their mental development. It seems to us that if the general public knew of these needs, and of the great benefit which would accrue to the scholars, if they were supplied, they would take a greater interest in the schools, and would not only be willing to help but would take pleasure in doing so.

On Friday afternoon of this week the pupils of the school will give a Christmas entertainment in the auditorium of the school. There will be no admission fee charged, and the public is cordially invited. We propose to give the school at this time a silver shower. A basket will be found at the door, and we hope that the public will respond both generously and liberally.

A Lover's Test

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS

About a century ago a crown prince of Prussia was in the matrimonial market. One day a Prussian deputation called on the reigning duke of one of the smaller of the German states and made a proposal for the hand of the duke's youngest daughter, Elsa, then nineteen years old. Her father, astonished and delighted at being so honored, went at once to communicate the news to his daughter. Elsa received it without the transports exhibited by her father.

"I am disappointed," she said, "for I have always supposed that not enough princes of the blood would be found for my older sisters and that I would be permitted to marry, if at all, for love. I will not wed the prince."

Her father argued and stormed, but could only secure his daughter's consent to the wedding on condition that she spend some time in Berlin that she might become acquainted with the prince and if he did not please her she could break the betrothal. Since her father must accept this condition or send a refusal to the king of Prussia he consented to it.

The crown prince pleased Elsa very much with his personality, but did not show her the attention she had a right to expect from a prince. There were many gallants at the Prussian court, and the princess accepted the attentions of those who were sufficiently impolitic to give them. For it was not expected that any man would devote himself to the betrothed of the heir apparent. Count Caspar Audenreid was one who seemed willing to trespass on the royal domain, and his attentions being accepted it was not long before the matter began to excite comment.

Meanwhile the crown prince, who took an interest in state affairs, busied himself with them and when at leisure, instead of seeking the company of his betrothed, devoted himself to other women. He did not seem to notice Count Caspar's attentions to Elsa, or if he did they did not seem to trouble him.

Elsa was piqued by his indifference. She did not love the count or any of the other courtiers who paid her attention. Indeed, she was much cut up because the prince slighted her. At last she concluded to withdraw from Berlin and on reaching her own home compel her father to send word to the king of Prussia that his daughter had informed herself of the crown prince's desirability and that she had not been sufficiently well pleased with him to marry him.

One night a carriage stood waiting at a doorway directly below her apartments in the palace. The princess, veiled, descended, entered the vehicle and was driven away.

On reaching a wooded spot some distance from the city the carriage was stopped and the door opened by a masked man.

"Pardon me, your highness," he said. "I am looking for one whom I expected to be with you."

"And who may he be?"

"Count Caspar Audenreid."

"And pray what interest is Count Audenreid to you?"

"None to me personally, but as one who has insulted my master, the crown prince, he is a good deal of interest to me. I desire to avenge that insult."

"You mean that his royal highness is indifferent to his loss, but extremely sensitive to his dignity?"

"As to that the prince must speak for himself."

"I have no desire to hear him on the subject. I presume you will permit me to go on."

"But perhaps my master may desire to apologize for his neglect of one for whose hand he had proposed."

"In that case it is not necessary that I should return to Berlin."

"Why not?"

"He stands before me."

"How have you been able to recognize me?"

"I would know you through any disguise."

"May I ask where you are going?"

"Home."

"Why are you leaving Berlin?"

"Because I will marry no man who treats me with indifference."

"And you are not accompanied by Count Audenreid?"

"That you can see for yourself."

"Will you give me another trial?"

"Not in Berlin. I shall be happy to receive you at my father's capital."

"May I accompany you?"

Elsa hesitated. A change had evidently come over her betrothed. Her departure would doubtless occasion a great deal of talk and trouble.

"You may," she said.

The prince entered the vehicle, and it was driven on.

"You came to Berlin," he said, "to look me over. I have been to your home incognito to look you over. I selected you among the other princesses of Europe because I fell in love with you."

"Then why did you treat me with such indifference?"

"To learn if it troubled you. But you have been a match for me. I believed you loved Audenreid."

"I love only the crown prince."

ELECTION CALLED FOR BOND ISSUE AT SEABREEZE

QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SEABREEZE WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE IN THE SUM OF $15,000 FOR WATER SYSTEM DEC. 30.

Pursuant to unanimous action taken by the town council of Seabreeze in session Monday night, the mayor has issued a call for a special municipal election to be held at the town hall in Seabreeze, on Wednesday, December 30th, on the question of whether the town council of Seabreeze shall be authorized to issue negotiable bonds in the sum of $15,000, payable in thirty years, the proceeds to be used in constructing, maintaining and operating a water works system for supplying water for domestic and fire protection purposes.

The town council met in regular adjourned session Monday night, all members present, Aldermen Kenney, Willson, Buckner and Wilcox answering to roll call, President Simpson in the chair. The docket had been cleared at the previous meeting of routine business including bills with the exception of a bill from A. S. Randall for street material and work, $48, which was allowed. Resolution was introduced by Alderman Kenney that the mayor of the town call a special municipal election to give the voters an opportunity to reject or ratify a bond issue of $15,000 to put in and operate a water system in the town of Seabreeze. The resolution passed unanimously, the yeas and nays being called. Bids on marl and shell were opened. It was voted that Ocean avenue be surfaced with 20 yards and the same of river shell to the 100 feet. Voted, that a barge of dry shell be procured at once to be used for patching purposes. Agreement between the town of Seabreeze and the Daytona Public Service company was read and it was voted that the mayor enter into contract with the company for the town. The proposition from the town of Daytona Beach that the town of Seabreeze pay for the lighting of one-half the lamps on Duke street was accepted. It was voted that Manager Blalock turn the lights on Atlantic avenue. Bids for laying 1,200 feet of two-inch pipe along Atlantic avenue from Duke street to Ora were opened. Clark G. Smith's bid was accepted, and Attorney Horn was instructed to draw up papers on condition that Mr. Smith could give clear title, and the system withstood the water pressure. It was voted that Attorney Horn draw up a contract between the town of Seabreeze and Daytona Beach for a water supply at the figures given by Alderman Willson of the Daytona Beach council, at ten cents per thousand gallons, delivered through an eight-inch pipe on Palmetto avenue at Duke street.

E. B. Mott, N. E. Bates and P. A. Rivenberg were appointed to act as

SMALL HOUSE SAW "ARRIVAL OF KITTY"

GOOD SHOW, BUT BAD WEATHER
KEPT PEOPLE AWAY—KEEN
LOCAL INTEREST IN COMING OFFERING OF ELKS.

"The Arrival of Kitty," presented at the New Daytona theater Tuesday evening, proved to be a much better offering than most had expected, being well up to the standard of many road shows playing this territory. The bad weather was a cause of a smaller house than would have greeted the play, and "The Arrival of Kitty" as given by the Phi Kappa Delta fraternity of Stetson university at DeLand, certainly was deserving of a better turnout.

Tomorrow night will be the big event. The Elks' minstrel show is ready for the public to feast its eyes upon. A new era in local talent efforts will be opened when the curtain rises on the first part, and from that time on amusement of a better sort will be rapidly dispensed for over two hours.

Seats for the minstrel show have been selling fast, but the house is large and many good seats yet remain. The New Daytona theater is, happily, so arranged that every seat is a good one. A good raise and no posts make every space equally as good. Hankins' is the place, where Volusia meets Beach, and the tickets will remain on sale there until 6:00 o'clock Thursday evening, when the sale will be transferred to the theater. People making reservations are requested to call for their tickets as soon as possible.

On Friday the New Daytona theater will have a special film feature, which together with a special musical program by the Quality Four, professional musicians, and two Keystone comedies, will be a winner. The ladies will have charge of the receipts and 25 per cent. of the gross proceeds will go to the "Save-a-Baby" fund. The cause is a worthy one, and the show a great big money's worth.

Among the appointments of preachers made by Bishop H. C. Morrison at the annual conference of the M. E. church, South, just concluded at Arcadia, is that of Rev. H. E. Mr. Partridge, during his pastorate of the Kingston and Port Orange M. E. churches, has endeared himself to the members of his congregations in those places and made many friends also outside of the church who will greatly regret his change to another district.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher of St. Augustine, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Miller of this city, and well known here, was re-appointed agent of the Anastasia assembly.

FOUR CONTESTANTS PASS MILLION MARK

highest number of votes—silk umbrella, by Lyman, the grocer.

To the one securing the fifth highest number of votes—coffee percolator by Gruber-Morris Hardware Co.

The merchants who have contributed the prizes other than the first two prizes will give 500 votes for each dollar of cash sales at their respective stores, but no votes will be given on purchases of less than one dollar.

500 votes will be given with every dollar paid to the Gazette-News company for subscriptions to the Daily News, short-time subscriptions to the Gazette-News, job work—on cash sales only, but not on charge accounts except on bills of the preceding month, paid not later than the 10th of the month following.

The object of the contest is primarily to increase the subscription list of the Gazette-News, and with this in view large blocks of votes are given on both renewals and new subscribers, the votes on new subscriptions being just double that given for renewals. It behooves the young ladies to ask their friends for subscriptions and thereby rapidly rise in the count.

The votes given on subscriptions are as follows:

PORT ORANGE.

PORT ORANGE, Dec. 14.—Robert Wilmarth, Bellemore, L. I., who has been here several winters, is stopping at the Tribble.

Jas. W. Hall, Cincinnati, O., and C. C. Knowlton, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., have taken up their residence for the winter at the Gesner cottage. Neither are strangers, having been here before, the former several times, with his wife, who died last spring.

John Dellenger and I. A. Corwin, of Covington, Ohio, who last season spent some time in the Mead house, are pleasantly located at J. M. Bradley's, on South Riverview.

Mr. and Mrs. Petheridge, near Haverhill, Mass., after stopping for some days have passed on southward.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigger, of Indiana, have apartments in J. B. Case's house on Orange street.

George Appenzeller has put a neat, up-to-date iron fence along the front of his lot which combines well with his new walk, and aids in giving a neat appearance to his well kept grounds.

Mr. Howland is putting down side-walks along the front of the F. E. C. railway grounds, on Dunlawton avenue.

Grading is being done for walks around the town lot on Orange and Dunlawton.

C. J. Vass is setting back his fence from the street to the street line, thus widening the street to the advantage of all the town, as well as his own property.

The hollow east of Lafayette street is to be raised, using the material in the higher ground on each side for filling sand.

The neat house of I. J. Wells Jr., has been rented to parties unknown to the writer.

Dr. H. K. DuBois started Monday on a business trip to New Jersey and New York and expects to make a stay of considerable duration.

Two truck loads of convicts and guards pass through town daily to and from their work on the roads. They are camped on the peninsula, but are working south of here.

Jesse Metts has been carrying the mail on his Ford roadster to and from the station for some time, and looks quite business like.

The crowd at the postoffice on Sunday afternoon is a reminder of other years; some new faces are in evidence and a few old friends are missed, but the majority greet one another as old friends.

The Willing Workers are working to gladden as many little hearts as they can by preparing comfortable clothing for the children of the Florida Home society, and also other needy ones as well. No doubt Christmas will be a brighter spot in many children's lives because of the time and money so freely given at this season all over our land. But the giving is also a blessing, as "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Otto Hines who has been several weeks at his grandfather's, E. Carpenter, expects to return to Charlevoix, Mich., to take a position in a store.

No Doubt About It. "Those men seem well connected," said Mullins as he looked at an officer and prisoner, handcuffed together, on their way to the courtroom.

Just look into this SHOP EARLY idea for a moment. Isn't it true that if you do your purchasing early you shop in comfort, avoid crowds and have more time for selection, besides getting your choice from unbroken stocks?

All True, Isn't It?

N. B.—Not saying anything about helping out the hard workers at the Christmas season.

Part of the crew got off in boats, while the others jumped into the water and were picked up by the Turkish ships. "The ship's chaplain and a handful of men were left aboard. As the ship went down the chaplain was seen on deck giving his blessing to the men who remained about him cheering and singing the national anthem."

FRENCH SAVE BRAVE FOEMAN

Colonel Spares Life of Airman Who Slew Three of His Assaults.

Paris, France.—An example of the good sportsmanship among the French was shown in a letter written by a German aviator to his parents. Flying high over the French trenches, the German pilot was killed and the aviator was severely wounded. The aviator, however, succeeded in bringing his machine safe to earth within the French lines.

He was immediately attacked on all sides, but throwing himself under the wing of his machine for concealment, he succeeded in killing three of his assailants before his revolver was empty. When he ceased firing the soldiers rushed up to bayonet him, but their colonel stopped them, saying: "Don't kill him; he is a brave man and a worthy enemy!"

English Table Delicacy.

The Englishman's weakness for pudding and pie is attested by the fact that the great London fire began at Pudding lane and ended at Pie corner. Wine Office court derived its name from the wine traffic formerly carried on there. Lambert Simnel, the pretender in Henry VIII's time, originated the Simnel or mid-Lent cake, now a celebrated specialty of Hereford. The cake is made of flour filled with plums and candied peel. It is tied in a cloth and boiled for hours, after which it is brushed over with egg and baked hard.
